How this works

Two tools do everything. Claude does the thinking and writing. Higgsfield makes the images, the voice and the video. Follow the ten steps below in order. Every prompt I used is here, word for word.

Three rules I set myself, worth borrowing: under $99 to set up, no real face or voice, first influencer built inside a day.

One rule that isn't optional: tell people it's AI. In the bio, and with the platform's AI creator setting. I did both, still grew the accounts, still made sales.

Set up your toolkit

Claude (free plan is fine)

1. Settings → Capabilities

2. Turn on Code execution and file creation

The skills (in the `skills` folder next to this guide)

1. In Claude: Customise → Add → Upload a skill

2. Drag the zip in as it is, don't unzip it

3. Repeat for each one. To use one, type `/` in the chat and pick it.

Skill	Step	What it does
<code>content-engine</code>	4	Content ideas, then scripts for the ones you pick
<code>ugc-influencer-video</code>	6	Higgsfield's own skill*. Turns a simple idea into the full video prompt, silent or talking
<code>digital-product</code>	9	Pitches three products, then builds the finished one
<code>charsheet-soul</code>	3 (optional)	Higgsfield's own character-sheet skill*, if you want the exact method used in the video

*Developed by one of Higgsfield's in-house creatives for this collaboration.

Everything else in this guide is a plain request typed into Claude. No skill needed.

STEP 1 Spy on the competition

Draw four boxes. Fill them in for every AI influencer you find (aim for twenty):

NICHE What they post about	FORMAT How the content is shaped
USP What makes them stand out	MONEY How they earn

Where to look: search Instagram and TikTok for AI influencer, virtual influencer, AI model, then follow the suggested accounts. Judge by saves, shares and comments, not follower counts.

What to note:

- Formats that keep repeating (podcast-style talking heads, off-camera interviews, silent clips with text over, props)
- USPs built on contrast with the niche (a very old person in a young niche, a woman in a male-dominated one)
- Which money method each account leans on: brand deals, physical products, digital products, ad revenue, affiliate income

Pick your niche. Health, wealth or relationships, unless you have a special interest that gives you an edge. Then look for the gap. When I researched, nobody was doing wealth.

Money method gets decided in Step 9, once you know which character has won.

My board at the end. Niche: fashion, lifestyle, music, health, military, relationships, wealth. Format: lifestyle photos, interview-style, props, vlog, podcast-style reels. USP: supermodel, old age, patriotic, underdog, high-maintenance. Money: brand deals, physical products, digital products, ad revenue, affiliate income.

STEP 2 Generate character ideas

Plain prompt, no skill.

PROMPT

Create a character profile for an AI influencer in the health niche. Give them a name, a backstory, a distinct look and a unique selling point.

Swap the niche. For more characters:

PROMPT

Now do it for the wealth niche.

A strong character has:

- A USP built on contrast. The opposite of what the niche normally looks like.
- A look you can say in one line. Shaved head, white beard to the chest. Oversized sunglasses indoors. Claw clip and gold hoops.
- Two or three signature anchors. Fixed physical details that never change (freckles across the nose, a mole above one eyebrow, lipstick bled into the lip lines, age spots on the hands). They go into every prompt, word for word. Decide them now.
- A catchphrase they end every video with.
- A reason they're online. One sentence.

Mine. Amos (health): 101, lived off the land, grandkids talked him online, signs off "None of this is new. You've just forgotten it." Grandma Vivienne (wealth): 82, self-made in property, three husbands, private jets. Anchors: bled red-orange lipstick, age spots on hands, silver bouffant. Sienna (relationships): 22, stylish, dating and situationship drama, big sister energy. Anchors: freckles across the nose bridge, beauty mark under the left eye, mole above the right eyebrow.

STEP 3

Generate the photos

3a. Sign up to Higgsfield

This is where the pictures get made. Sign up with my link, then enter the code before you pick a plan. It's 20% off monthly plans and stacks with whatever offer they're running.

3b. Get Claude to write the character prompt

Plain prompt, no skill. Claude writes the detailed Higgsfield prompt for you.

PROMPT

Write me a detailed Higgsfield image prompt for this character. I want a couple of different angles, a full body shot and a close up, on a white background, with realistic looking skin, not airbrushed. Here's who they are: [paste the profile from Step 2]

Check what comes back against these rules (all from the Higgsfield team), then type yes to generate:

1. Important details in the first paragraph. Age, gender, anything unusual, and fully clothed. Long prompts get the end cut off silently. Keep it under about 3,500 characters.
2. Strong features said three times. Bald head, long beard, big glasses: in the opening, in each angle, in the character section.
3. Anchors written in word for word.
4. Age forced. Old: genuinely elderly, visibly aged wrinkled face, NOT young, NOT middle-aged. Young: clearly reads EARLY TWENTIES, NOT thirty, NOT mature.
5. States described positively. Completely bare face, eyes fully visible, not "sunglasses off."
6. Jewellery counted. Exactly two slim gold bangles on one wrist.
7. Texture, not adjectives. Visible pores, faint freckles, not ultra realistic, 8K.

If the age comes out wrong:

PROMPT

Make him a few years older.

Generate a few times, pick one, commit to it. That face is your character.

OPTIONAL SKILL `charsheet-soul`

If you want exactly the method used for the characters in the video, this is the skill (developed by one of Higgsfield's in-house creatives for this collaboration). Type `/`, pick it, paste your profile.

Full character prompts for Amos, Sienna and Vivienne: Appendix D.

3c. Keep the face locked

The character sheet is the lock. Attach it as the identity reference to every image and video from now on, with the anchors written in word for word. Never regenerate the sheet.

3d. Build their world

Plain prompt, same chat. These are empty scenes, no people. Your character gets dropped into them at Step 6.

PROMPT

Now generate some scenes to put him in: his porch, farmhouse kitchen, vegetable garden and yard.

Three or four locations per character. Lived-in, no brands, no readable text.

Mine. Amos: porch, farmhouse kitchen, vegetable garden, yard. Vivienne: private jet, sports car, drawing room, terrace. Sienna: apartment living room, bedroom, hallway. Full prompts for three of these: Appendix D. All of Amos's locations and outfit variations are in Amos_prompts.docx in the same folder as this guide.

3e. Profile and Instagram photos

You need a profile picture per account and a handful of candid photos for the grid. This one doesn't need a crafted prompt at all. Attach the character sheet to the chat as the reference, then ask in plain English. Claude and the Higgsfield connector do the rest, using the Soul 2.0 model.

PROMPT

Create a few Instagram-style photos for my character using the Higgsfield Soul 2.0 model.

If you want to steer them, add the situations: a selfie in an airport seat, a mirror photo before a night out, a coffee on a balcony. The prompts Claude writes behind the scenes open with keep this exact person's face and identity unchanged and close with the phone-photo block: casual imperfect framing, mild HDR, true-to-life colours, natural skin texture, subtle sensor grain, no retouching. Full example: Appendix D.

STEP 4 Map out the viral content

SKILL content-engine

PROMPT

Generate content ideas for Sienna.

Claude researches the niche and returns a ranked list of ideas: opening line, format, setting, why it should work. Pick the opening lines you'd stop scrolling for.

PROMPT

Generate scripts for 1, 2 and 7.

Each script comes back as a card: caption, setting, spoken script. Repeat for your other characters. Aim for ten scripts per character before launch.

A good script: 15 to 30 seconds (40 to 90 words). First line is the hook. Sounds like talking, not writing. No medical claims, no financial advice, no cures.

Example. Caption: how to make him nervous and give him butterflies. Setting: podcast desk, side view, headphones off. Script: This is how to make him nervous and give him butterflies. Guys, confirm or deny in the comments. Number one, The Alexa. Say his name. Actually use it in conversation instead of just talking at him. The second you say it, it's like you woke something up. Number two, The Mona Lisa. Forehead, eyes, lips. Hold real eye contact, then glance at his lips for a second. It's foolproof. Babe, you're basically a painting right now, I'm just appreciating the art.

STEP 5 Give them a voice

One voice per character. Generate once, lock it, reuse it.

In Higgsfield:

1. Audio tab → Turn text to speech
2. Upload media → add two or three images of the character (the video shows this step; do it the same way)
3. Script box → a short line. Mine: "Hi, my name is Vivienne. Use this sound so the character speaks like this."
4. Voice details box → paste the description from below
5. Generate

Get the voice description from Claude. Plain prompt, no skill.

PROMPT

Generate a detailed prompt for Vivienne's voice. I'm thinking British, early 80s and very posh.

Give it four things: accent, age, one word for the register (posh, gravelly, warm, sharp), one word for the energy (slow, upbeat, blunt, gentle). Paste the result into the voice details box.

Vivienne. [voice: elderly woman, early 80s, refined aristocratic British accent (classic RP, genuinely posh, finishing-school diction), low velvety slightly smoky timbre with a natural light rasp of age, strong and controlled, never frail or shaky; slow deliberate pacing, entirely comfortable with pauses, every word placed with intention; dry amused delivery with a permanent hint of a knowing smirk in the voice; a signature drawled "darling", warm, indulgent and faintly condescending at once; the wisdom of old money: she never rushes, never raises her voice, never explains twice.]

Sienna. [voice: young woman, early 20s, light natural British accent (soft South-East England / London, not posh, not heavy), casual conversational tone, energetic and hyped, warm big-sister girly energy, genuine audible smile in the voice.]

Amos. [voice: speaking English, English language only, elderly man, mid-to-late 70s, deep weathered baritone with a slight gravelly rasp of age, calm and unhurried delivery, warm grandfatherly tone like he's sharing something he's proven true himself, measured pacing with natural deliberate pauses between phrases letting each line land, quiet certainty with no urgency or performance, faint audible smile on warmer lines, soft rural British English accent (gentle West Country lilt, countryside farmer cadence), recorded on a phone propped a few steps away outdoors on a wooden porch, voice slightly distant and off-axis from the mic, open-air ambience with faint birdsong and light breeze, lo-fi phone-mic texture]

The "not posh, not heavy" and "never frail" lines stop the model sliding to a stereotype. Keep them.

Rules: generate once and lock it. Change one thing at a time if it's off. Never name a real person. Then run every script through the voice and download the audio files.

STEP 6 Bring them to life

Cinema Studio setup:

1. Cinema Studio → New Project, name it after the character, Create
2. Aspect ratio 9:16
3. Quality 1080p
4. Leave everything else as it is

Silent clip first

SKILL ugc-influencer-video

This is the skill that wrote every video prompt in the video, developed by one of Higgsfield's in-house creatives for this collaboration. Give it a simple idea and it writes the whole thing.

PROMPT

Silent text-over b-roll: Sienna on her sofa, scrolling her phone, propped phone, ten seconds. Image 1 is her character sheet, image 2 is the living room.

Paste the prompt into Cinema Studio. Attach the character sheet as image 1 and the location as image 2. Generate. Add text over the clip in editing.

What it writes for you: one small action with a start and an end, a camera that's propped or handheld (never a tripod), the top third of the frame kept clear for your text, the relight block, and no dialogue. Full example: Appendix D9.

The relight rule

Your character sheet is a flat image on a white background. Without instruction the model pastes it into the room like a sticker. Every video prompt needs a relight line: discard the sheet's lighting, light the character from scratch to the scene (key light direction, fill, a colour bounce off a surface in the room, real contact shadows). If your prompt hasn't got it, add it.

Talking clips

Same skill, plus a script. Tell it which format: talking to camera (character filmed themselves on a propped phone) or interview (answering someone off screen, never looks at the lens).

PROMPT

Interview clip: Vivienne in the drawing room answering an off-camera interviewer, propped phone. Image 1 is her character sheet, image 2 is the drawing room, audio 1 is her voice track saying the attached script.

Attach the character sheet as image 1, the location as image 2, the audio file from Step 5 as audio 1. The prompt tells the model to lip-sync exactly to the audio, lips still when the audio is silent, no added words. Full interview example: Appendix D8.

Rules that save credits:

- 30 seconds is the cap per generation. Longer scripts: two clips, one cut.
- One action per clip.
- Never write "tripod."
- Props exist from frame one.
- Other people at the edges, blurred, faces never visible.

If something looks wrong:

- Pasted-in look → relight line missing or weak
- Face drifts → sheet not attached as image 1, or anchors don't match
- Prop appears mid-shot → wasn't in frame one
- Sunset in ten seconds → add the lighting state is constant, not a time-lapse
- Wrong language → speaks only English throughout at the top

Editing: captions and joins in Instagram Edits or CapCut, both free. Big clean captions, most people watch muted.

STEP 7 Launch the accounts

Start with Instagram. Add TikTok and YouTube Shorts later with the same clips.

Per account:

1. New Instagram account
2. Name: include a search term (mine: Amos health and wellness)
3. Username: bare name plus something from the character's world
4. Profile picture: one of the Step 3e photos
5. Edit profile → bio (below)
6. Turn on the AI creator toggle

Username. Amos.oldways · sienna.saysso · vivienne.darling

Bio: who they are, a reason to follow, and the AI disclosure.

Amos 101 years old 🌱 Growing older, staying younger Simple habits for peak energy, focus and longevity Your AI grandpa

Sienna Sienna Saysso | Relationship Advice Giving great dating advice I'll never follow. 🙄✨ Your AI bestie

Vivienne Grandma Vivienne | Money & Wealth Advice Marry rich? Darling, I am the rich husband 💰💎 Teaching you how to stack cash and break ceilings ✨👛 Your AI grandma 👑

Post ten videos per account on day one, so anyone who likes one has more to watch straight after. Then post daily.

Expect the first few days to be slow. Watch saves, shares and comments instead of follower counts.

STEP 8 Crown the winner

Give the accounts a few days. Around day five, pick the clear leader and put everything into that one.

Measure: followers, views, saves, shares, comments.

Mine, day five. Vivienne third. Sienna second. Amos first by a mile. Amos became the focus.

STEP 9 Start making money

Pick the method. Go back to the money box on your board.

- Brand deals: outreach and negotiation, too slow for a week.
- Physical products: a store is a whole project.
- Ad revenue: Instagram doesn't pay for Reels. YouTube does, but takes time to set up.
- Affiliate income: quick and easy via TikTok Shop, but only if you're posting on TikTok. I wasn't.
- Digital products: nothing to make or ship, built entirely in Claude. This one.

What to make. Not an ebook, people can Google that. Something structured and interactive that holds their hand through a change: a workbook they fill in daily.

Build it

SKILL digital-product

PROMPT

Create a workbook as a digital product for Amos.

Three ideas come back, each with why people would pay.

PROMPT

Build number 1.

Claude writes every page and hands you the finished PDF.

Add this photo of Amos to the front cover.

Attach the profile picture so he's instantly recognisable. Then read the whole thing yourself. Check it's logically sound and safe, and remove anything that sounds like a machine wrote it.

Mine. The Old Ways: Amos's 30-Day Energy Reset. One habit a day with a named rule and a tick box, a tracker for the fridge, bonus recipes.

Sell it on Stan Store

PROMPT

Write a description for this workbook.

Thirty forgotten habits. One a day. More energy in a month than you've had in years.

This guide is for you if you're looking to: - Wake up with more energy, without needing five coffees to do it - Build habits that actually stick, one simple day at a time - Eat, move, and sleep the way people did before it got complicated

Includes a full 30-day tracker, bonus recipes, and a printable wall chart to keep you going long after day 30.

"None of this is new. You've just forgotten it."

Upload the PDF. Publish. Copy the link into the character's Instagram bio. Connect your bank details. Post a second batch of videos with the product in the description.

STEP 10

Count the profit

Revenue isn't profit. Take everything off.

Sales	$23 \times $12 = \276
Claude	$0 (free plan)
Instagram Edits	$0
Stan Store	$0 (free trial)
PayPal fees	$19.52
Higgsfield	$99 (counted at full price)
Total costs	$118.52
Profit	$157.48

I refunded every sale afterwards because this was a challenge, not a business.

One thing worth knowing. After I'd doubled down on Amos, Vivienne's account took off on its own: 10,000 views on one video, 20,000 on another, 250,000 on a third. Seven days is enough to test this. It's not always enough to see the full picture.

Where to expand: the same clips on TikTok and YouTube Shorts. Affiliate income once you're on TikTok. Brand deals once the audience is there. A second product. The other characters.

Appendix D: Worked example prompts

The exact prompts that made the characters and clips in the video. Read one all the way through before you write your own. Vivienne's seven full video prompts are in VIVIENNE_video_prompts_master.docx, in the same folder as this guide.

D1. Character sheet: Sienna

PROMPT

Three-panel character reference sheet, 16:9 aspect ratio, clean pure white seamless background, natural casual documentary-style photography, photorealistic with completely matte unretouched natural skin showing authentic visible pores, fine peach fuzz, natural skin imperfections, real human texture, no plastic skin, no doll-like overdone features, no airbrushing, no skin smoothing, no porcelain finish, no CGI rendering, no glamour-shot lighting. No real brand logos, no commercial branding, no copyrighted graphics or text, no monogram patterns, no designer brand prints, no copyrighted accessories. No celebrity likeness, no real-person likeness, no movie character references, character is an original generic stylish big-city it-girl archetype only with her own original face. ALL graphics and patterns must be original generic abstract designs. Same identical woman with same exact face in all three panels, face must be identical across full body shot and close-ups, identical facial structure, identical features, identical face shape, same person photographed three times. She is a stunningly beautiful VERY YOUNG 22-year-old European woman who clearly looks her fresh early twenties, with long blonde hair twisted up in a tortoiseshell claw clip, natural soft green eyes, small gold hoop earrings and a thin delicate gold chain necklace in every panel, FULLY CLOTHED in the same outfit in all three panels.

Panel 1 (left third), Full body shot from head to toe: her ENTIRE standing figure visible from the top of her clipped-up hair down to her shoes on the floor, lightweight cream wool coat worn open over a chocolate-brown fitted top and caramel wide-leg trousers, structured suede shoulder bag on one shoulder, relaxed confident model-off-duty stance, soft warm expression.

Panel 2 (center third), Side profile MEDIUM bust portrait: true 90-degree side profile, medium framing showing from upper chest line up to top of the head with comfortable space around the head (NOT extreme close-up, NOT just face, show shoulders, neckline, coat collar, the claw clip at the back of her head, gold hoop earring, loose face-framing strands), serene soft expression.

Panel 3 (right third), Frontal MEDIUM bust portrait: facing camera directly, medium framing showing from upper chest line up to top of the head, a soft warm closed-lip smile just starting at the corners of her lips, relaxed friendly magnetic gaze into the camera, charming, approachable, alive, the warm confidence of the prettiest friend in the group.

Important framing rule for panels 2 and 3: face occupies upper-middle third of the panel, shoulders and upper chest fully showing, NO tight extreme face crops.

Character, strict facial consistency: breathtakingly beautiful 22-year-old European woman with a FRESH YOUTHFUL face that clearly reads EARLY TWENTIES, NOT thirty, NOT mature: soft youthful cheeks, smooth unlined forehead, fresh college-age glow. True model-agency beauty of the warm charming kind, high delicate cheekbones, refined straight nose, softly defined jawline, full naturally shaped lips, large softly expressive eyes, harmonious symmetrical features, gorgeous and magnetic, never cold, never severe, completely real and human. NATURAL soft green eyes, muted sage-green with warm hazel flecks, the way real green eyes look, NOT saturated emerald, NO colored-contact-lens look. Flawless velvety smooth even-toned skin with soft matte finish and visible fine pores, luminous, healthy, real. Faint natural freckles across the nose bridge (signature anchor), small beauty mark under the outer corner of her left eye (second anchor), tiny mole above the right end of her right eyebrow (third anchor). Long naturally blonde hair with subtle darker roots twisted up in a tortoiseshell claw clip, loose relaxed strands framing her face. Glowing minimal natural makeup, fresh luminous-but-matte skin, groomed fluffy brows, a hint of mascara, soft rosy natural lip. Tall slim young model build with easy graceful posture. Realistic human anatomy, five fingers per hand.

Outfit (identical in all three panels, modern Pinterest latte aesthetic): lightweight cream wool coat with clean minimal lines, soft unstructured drape, plain, no branding; chocolate-brown fitted fine-knit mock-neck top in thick opaque fabric, torso, chest and shoulders fully covered; high-waisted caramel-tan wide-leg tailored trousers; chocolate-brown pointed leather flats, no logos; structured chocolate suede shoulder bag with plain gold-tone hardware, no logos, no monograms; small gold hoop earrings, thin delicate gold chain necklace. Modest fully-clothed editorial styling, no sexualized framing, no revealing styling, opaque thick fabric only, no see-through fabric, no body emphasis, conservative natural styling, fully covering torso.

Lighting & rendering: Soft even diffused studio lighting on the white backdrop WITHOUT dramatic glamour shot lighting, WITHOUT specular highlights on skin, clean neutral illumination with soft natural shadows. Face must remain identical across all three panels, same bone structure, same signature anchors, same person photographed three times. Panels 2 and 3 strictly medium bust framing, never tight face crops. Cream-chocolate-caramel-gold warm latte palette and aesthetic, professional natural photography quality.

D2. Character sheet: Vivienne

PROMPT

Two-panel character reference sheet, 16:9, clean pure white seamless studio background in both panels. Natural documentary-style photography, photorealistic matte unretouched skin with visible pores and real human texture, no plastic skin, no airbrushing, no CGI rendering. No real brand logos, no commercial branding, no copyrighted graphics, no monogram patterns, no designer brand charms or tags, no celebrity likeness. Same identical woman with same exact face in both panels, identical facial structure, identical features, identical face shape, same person photographed twice. In BOTH panels she has voluminous silver-white hair set in a firm sculpted salon bouffant, bold red-orange lipstick, and layered gold jewellery, appearing identically in both panels. FULLY CLOTHED in the same outfit in both panels.

Panel 2 (right half), Frontal CLOSE head-and-chest portrait, THE SIGNATURE GESTURE: facing the camera directly, framed from the chest up, both hands raised to the oversized tortoiseshell sunglasses, tipping them DOWN her nose with her fingertips so her hooded grey-blue eyes look straight over the rims into the lens, a piercing, imperious, unimpressed stare, chin level, no smile. The fur collar, layered gold necklaces, large gold rings and chunky gold bangles clearly visible; face large and detailed in the frame.

Outfit (identical in both panels, old-money glamour aesthetic): a luxurious cream-ivory plush fur coat with a wide soft collar, worn open; underneath, a tailored camel-beige blouse or jacket; a patterned silk scarf in warm amber-and-brown tones knotted at the neck; straight tailored chocolate-brown trousers; polished snakeskin-texture pointed court heels, no logos; a small quilted cream leather top-handle handbag with plain gold-tone hardware, NO logos, NO brand charms, NO monograms; jewellery: large ornate gold earrings, two or three layered gold necklaces with round medallion links, large statement gold rings on both hands (one with a textured snakeskin-pattern band), chunky gold cuff bangles on both wrists. Modest fully-clothed styling, torso fully covered in both panels.

Character, strict facial consistency: an 82-year-old Caucasian woman of striking old-money glamour, remarkably well-kept but honestly aged, vital, sharp, powerful presence. Sharp high cheekbones, defined jawline, hooded grey-blue eyes with muted catchlights under neatly arched brows, a refined straight nose. Real aged skin with true texture, deep expression lines around the mouth and brow, crow's feet, crepey neck skin, fine vertical lip lines with the red-orange lipstick faintly bled into them (signature anchor), scattered age spots on the backs of her hands (second anchor), voluminous silver-white sculpted bouffant with a deep side sweep (third anchor). NO sickly frailty, NO over-smoothing, an aristocratic face that has lived. Slim petite frame, proud straight-backed posture. Realistic human anatomy, five fingers per hand.

Lighting & rendering: soft even diffused studio lighting on the white backdrop, no dramatic glamour lighting, no specular highlights on skin, clean neutral illumination with soft natural shadows. Same identical woman with same exact face, same silver bouffant, same jewellery and same outfit in both panels. Warm cream-camel-gold old-money palette against the white background, professional natural photography quality.

D3. Character sheet: Amos

PROMPT

Character sheet, two-panel studio portrait on a clean white seamless background: full-body shot on the left, tight close-up on the right. An elderly farmer in his late 70s, lean and wiry build, completely bald with a deeply tanned, sun-weathered, freckled scalp and face. Long, thick, untamed white-grey beard reaching mid-chest, with a matching full moustache; no hair on the head. Striking pale blue-grey eyes, heavy-lidded, with deep crow's feet and furrowed brow lines; a calm, steady, unsmiling gaze straight into the camera. Prominent ears, strong nose, deeply lined leathery skin. He wears a loose mustard-ochre linen tunic shirt with short sleeves and an open V-neck collar with a single button, a long strand of dark brown wooden prayer beads around his neck, plain rust-brown linen trousers, and worn brown leather sandals. Arms hang relaxed at his sides, sinewy forearms with sun-damaged skin, weathered working hands. Neutral standing pose, feet slightly apart. Soft even studio lighting, high-key, minimal shadows, sharp detail on skin texture and beard. Quiet, dignified, patient, ascetic presence — a man who has spent his life working the land. Photorealistic, natural colors, 85mm lens for the portrait, editorial casting-photo style. 16:9.

The three outfit-variation prompts (an olive henley, a grey flannel, a navy work shirt) that dress the same sheet differently are in Amos_prompts.docx in the same folder as this guide.

D4. Location still: Vivienne's drawing room

Realistic smartphone photo of an elegant old-money drawing room in a grand townhouse, late afternoon, vertical 9:16 framing, empty scene with no people. Center: a refined antique armchair upholstered in cream silk beside a small polished side table holding a porcelain tea cup and a slim vase of fresh white roses. Around it: a marble fireplace with a gilt-framed mirror above, tall windows with heavy champagne silk drapes half drawn, cream panelled walls, a large classical oil painting in a gold frame (subject indistinct, no readable signature), a soft antique rug over dark herringbone parquet, a crystal chandelier catching the light, stacks of hardcover books with unreadable spines, a cashmere throw folded over the chair arm. Warm low afternoon sunlight falling through the tall windows in long soft beams, gentle shadows across the parquet, dust motes in the light. Lived-in aristocratic elegance, polished but genuinely inhabited, tasteful, nothing staged for a catalogue. Natural authentic look like a real room photographed on a modern phone: clean, bright, true-to-life colors, no cinematic lighting, no HDR halos. No brands, no logos, no readable text anywhere.

D5. Location still: Sienna's living room

PROMPT

Ultra photorealistic cinematic photo of a cozy apartment living room in the afternoon, empty scene with no people. Subject details: a warm-toned sofa with a soft throw blanket draped over one side and a couple of cushions, a wooden coffee table in front holding a leafy green potted plant and two ceramic mugs, a small stack of books, lived-in but tidy styling. Setting / environment: a homely apartment living room with warm neutral walls, a window letting in soft daylight to one side, a rug on the floor, a shelf with a few plants and small decor objects, a warm and inviting domestic space. Lighting and atmosphere: soft afternoon window daylight mixed with the warm glow of one homely table lamp, gentle natural shadows, warm inviting tones, a calm relaxed lived-in mood. Camera position and framing: eye-level wide shot of the sofa and coffee table, balanced level composition, 35mm lens, natural shallow depth of field with soft background falloff, clean professional framing. Style: professional interior cinematography, natural warm homely color grade, hyper-detailed realistic textures of fabric, wood, ceramic and foliage, soft natural daylight, gentle film grain, 8K.

D6. Location still: Amos's porch

PROMPT

Cinematic wide shot from a weathered wooden farmhouse porch at golden hour, late summer. Peeling white paint on the clapboard walls, square porch columns, and a simple picket-style railing, all faded to a warm cream and grey. An old wooden ladder-back armchair with a worn plaid cushion sits in the center of the porch, angled toward the fields. A scuffed pair of leather work boots rests near the door on the left, next to a rusted metal watering can. A faded olive-brown canvas jacket is draped over the railing; a coil of rope hangs from the far right column. A white metal downpipe runs along the middle column. Behind the porch, gentle rolling farmland: a mown green pasture in the middle distance, rows of low leafy crops on the right, a dark treeline on the horizon, distant power lines barely visible in the haze. Pale hazy sky fading from soft blue to warm apricot near the horizon. Low warm sunlight raking in from the left, long soft shadows across the weathered plank floor, gentle dust in the air. Quiet, nostalgic, slightly melancholic rural Americana atmosphere, empty scene with no people. Shot on 35mm anamorphic, shallow depth on foreground details, natural film grain, muted earthy color palette of ochre, sage green, and cream. 16:9.

D7. Candid Instagram photo: Sienna

PROMPT

Keep this exact woman's face and identity unchanged. Candid iPhone selfie in a business class airplane seat: white hydration sheet mask on her face, hair up in a loose claw clip, cozy cream hoodie, holding a glass of champagne toward the lens with amused deadpan energy, airplane window and cabin behind her. Slightly low arm's-length selfie angle with mild front-camera distortion, soft window daylight mixed with warm cabin light. Authentic candid iPhone photo, casual imperfect framing, mild HDR, true-to-life colors, natural skin texture visible at the mask edges, subtle sensor grain, no studio lighting, no retouching, not posed, looks like a real photo from her camera roll. Fully clothed, one person only. 9:16.

D8. Talking clip, interview format: Vivienne, "Don't marry a rich man" (8s). The method for Step 6's talking clips.

PROMPT

TOP PRIORITY (read first): 1) Both speakers speak ONLY English. 2) The phone is casually propped, NOT a tripod, living UGC framing with a slight tilt and a settle-wobble at the start. 3) Interview excerpt: eyeline always on the off-camera interviewer, she NEVER looks at the camera. 4) Her oversized tortoiseshell sunglasses are ON throughout, the signature over-the-rims look lands exactly on "Be one." 5) Real aged skin texture; waxiness and smoothing strictly forbidden.

CRITICAL, RELIGHT: discard @image1's flat white-studio lighting completely. Relight her from scratch to the drawing room: warm low afternoon window light as key from the side, soft gilt-and-cream room bounce filling her shadow side, chandelier sparkle on the gold, the emerald silk catching living highlights, warm window light reflecting in the dark lenses of her sunglasses, true contact shadows in the silk armchair. Never brighter than the room, never a cut-out from a white background. Keep identity, face, hair, jewellery, outfit; derive all lighting from @image2.
